brittain, josh and lucy bug

Hi there!

We are truly humbled that of all the places you could have chosen to stay, you chose our dear Airstream.

For 4 years, Lucy Bug served as our full-time home on the road - she is our first home together as a married couple. :)

We embarked on our journey in August of 2016 to South Dakota and from there have visited countless states from coast-to-coast, north-to-south, national parks and state parks all while visiting friends and family along the way.

We truly love life on the road and plan to continue our journey with Lucy Bug. Until then, she's fulfilling another purpose - bringing smiles and comfort to those who visit her at Flathead Lake Resort

We hope you enjoy her as much as we do.

During your visit here, please know that with age come quirks and character. :) Lucy Bug is 30+ years old and many of her parts are original, but everything works and is in great condition. If you have questions about anything, please refer to this manual or reach out to ask.

Enjoy your stay and happy travels wherever the road may take you,

Brittain and Josh

we like social good

Don't be surprised when your bath towel looks like a blanket. ...it is a blanket. And a scarf. And a skirt. And a hair towel...sarong...tapestry...it's a Turkish towel and it's magic. And I bought them straight from the artist in Turkey! (Etsy)

Guests love our towels! If you do too, get yours here! We've found an artist in Turkey who we've grown very fond of.

Now, our entire lifestyle is furnished with her towels. She would love and appreciate your business too!

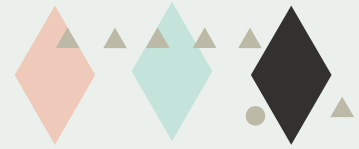

We're pretty stoked about our sponges that come from France. They're basically made of plants - which means they're compostable! And, always new, never used! Just for you!

GOOD FOR YOUR BUM • GREAT FOR THE WORLD

gives a crap

tiny home means tiny space means new ways of doing things

Mason jars have about 9,000 uses...

Here's how we like to use ours:

- coffee/soup (use our felt koozies)
- cereals/parfaits
- food storage (it's way cooler than plastic!)
- smoothies (our reg mouth jars fit the blender!)

It's a dish rack...
No, it's a veggie drying rack...
No, it's a HOT plate!

Hangers take up LOTS of space.
Meet the Marie Kondo method.

How Things Work

BEDROOM HEATER

This heater is for heating the bedroom only.

For safety, please ensure this heater is off when you are not utilizing the bedroom.

*It is pre-programmed to turn off every morning at 8:30am.

Note: Please do not block these vent with clothes or anything flammable.

~~MAIN HOME HEATER~~ HEATED MATTRESS PAD (WINTER MONTHS ONLY)

Better than this furnace (which has been removed) is the heated mattress pad which will keep you warm and toasty at night! :) Your control is sitting where this arrow is pointing.

AIR CONDITIONER

There is just one black button that you will need to move up/down to trigger on/off. Look at the diagram on the left of the a/c. The black button is on the right.

WINDOWS

All windows have been prepped for a smooth opening, but this is one of Lucy's 30-year old quirks. Please do not force the windows to open.

After unlocking the windows, if they will not open, you may take a butter knife to the outside of the window to GENTLY loosen the seal of the window. From there you can prop open.

The stove should always be 'ready for use' upon arrival.

There is a pilot light under the stovetop cover, which causes the stove cover to be warm - for SAFETY, please do not rest papers or personal items on the stovetop cover - it remains warm 100% of the time.

WHEN COOKING, If a burner does not ignite fire within 4 seconds of turning knob on, please turn knob off immediately.

TO TROUBLESHOOT:

Touch hand gently to the middle of the stove cover - it will be warm. If it is warm, this ensures the pilot light is on. Try to light once more. If stove fails, please contact Brittain.

The pilot light that stays lit unless 1 of 3 occasions cause it to go out.

1. someone turned the pilot off
2. wind blew the pilot out (when windows are open and breeze cuts through)
3. the propane is out (this will not be an issue for guests)

If the pilot light has gone out, please contact Brittain for a very simple walk-through on reigniting.

OVEN

The oven's pilot light is always OFF.

To light for cooking, please follow these simple steps and ALWAYS turn pilot OFF when done cooking.

To light the pilot fire:

1. Turn far left knob on oven from off to on
 - a. Wait about 30 seconds
2. Grab lighter out of the utensil drawer
3. Open oven door
4. Under the lowest rack in oven, at the center point, ignite your lighter. If propane is flowing, a small flame will light.
5. If flame does not light on first try, try again
6. Repeat steps 2-3 times if needed
7. If pilot does not light after 3rd try, please contact Brittain.

After the oven pilot is lit, it will look like this.

LOCKING THE DEADBLOT
VIDEO: CLICK ARROW TO PLAY

LOCKING THE DEADBLOT
(PLEASE DON'T SLAM OR FORCE THE DOOR)

Please follow current guidelines set in place...

Montana can get hot and dry...
especially during fire season.
If there is a fire ban, please don't light a fire.

My dear pyro friends,

1. NEVER leave fire or embers unattended
2. Maximum 5 logs burning at one time
3. Do not let flames burn more than 2 ft high
4. Please keep fire 8ft away from camper and other objects
